

You'll need two codes to get started in a vrClinicals for Nursing course.

1. thePoint® Access Code—included with your course materials purchased on thePoint® (thePoint.lww.com). You need this code to set up your login ID and password at thePoint®.
2. Course ID—you will receive this code from your instructor. You need this code to get into the vrClinicals for Nursing course that has been set up exclusively for your course. Course IDs are a combination of letters and numbers: e.g. 53CEFB0A4A3.

Launching vrClinicals for Nursing

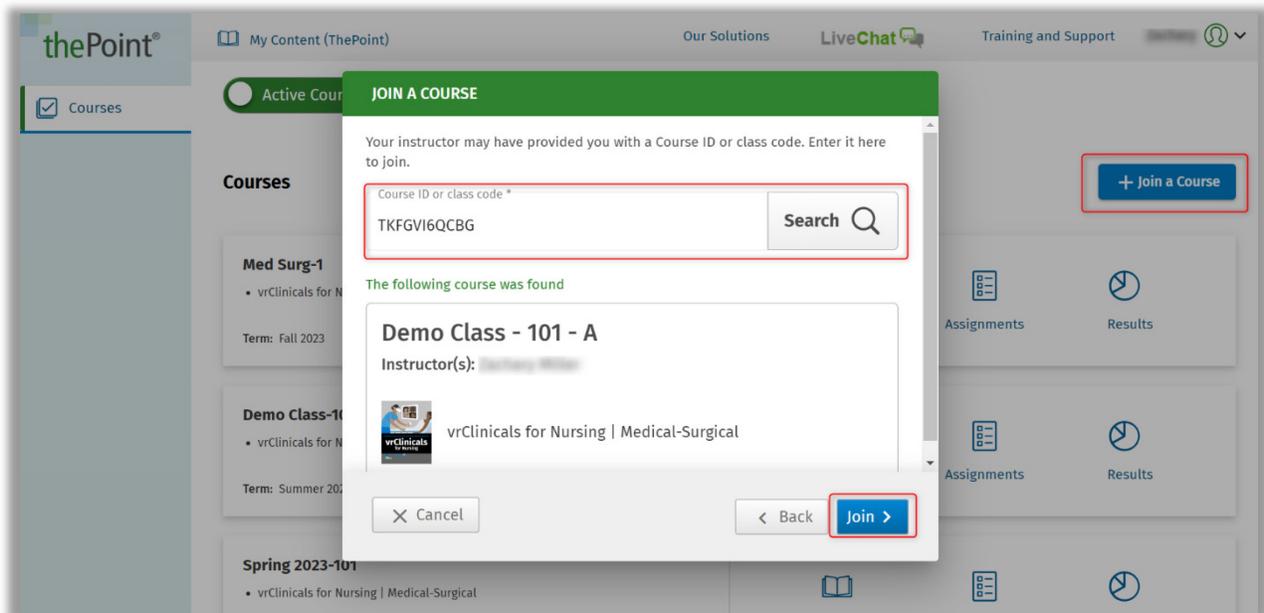

1. On the My Content page, locate your vrClinicals for Nursing product
2. Select Launch from the product listing or About this Product page

Joining a Course

You must join a course to access your class assignments.

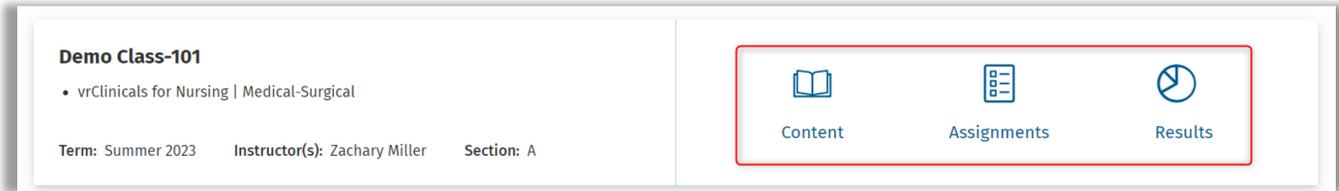

1. Make sure you have the Course ID provided by your instructor.
 - Tip: If you have never joined a course, you will see a red banner at the top of the screen prompting you to join a course. If you have joined other courses, you will see “Courses” home page.
2. Select Join a Course
3. In the pop-up window enter the Course ID that was provided by your instructor and then select Search
4. The system will search for your course, and it will display if the course was found. If it is the correct course, then select the Join button.
5. Then you will be notified that that you have successfully joined the course. Select Continue

Navigation

Each course has its own toolbar. You can select an icon to access the following options:

- Content – displays the content for this product
- Assignments – displays assignments for this course
- Results – displays results for this course

After selecting an icon, the same course tools are in a vertical menu on the left side of the screen

Content

On the Content dashboard you will find all scenarios and tutorial videos from your vrClinicals for Nursing product.

Here you will also find supplemental resources.

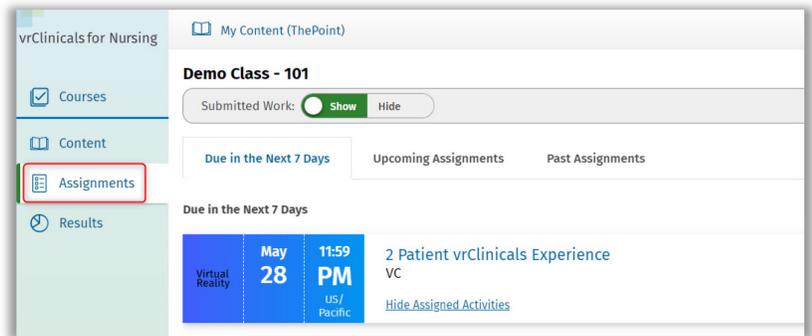

Assignments

To access assignments from your instructor, select the Assignments tab.

Assignments will be organized into three categories, based on the due date designated by your instructor:

1. Due in the Next 7 Days - due in the next 7 days based on the designated due date
2. Upcoming Assignments - content item has been assigned but is not due within the next 7 days. Due date is greater than 7 days.
3. Past Assignments - due date is past

Results

You can access your Assigned and Unassigned results in your course by selecting the Results icon on the Class Toolbar or the left Student Tools panel.
